Snapshots of the Closing Ceremony

▲ Kálmán Kovács (Minister of Informatics and Communications)

“... What you need for the socialisation of IT and the foundation of the information society is knowledge. Computer literacy is essential for the modernisation of a country and its success in Europe. However, besides widespread and general IT education, we need real IT professionals with profound, high-quality skills. ...”

▲ Gergely Arató (Secretary of State, Ministry of Education)

“... A programmer was walking home one day from work when a frog called out to him and said, »I’m a beautiful princess. If you kiss me I’ll turn back into a princess and I’ll stay with you for an entire week and you can do to me ANYTHING you want.« The programmer put the frog into his pocket and said, »Look, I’m a computer programmer. I don’t have time for a girlfriend, but a talking frog is COOL.« ...”

▲ Péter Bakonyi (President of John von Neumann Computer Society)

“... I’d like to congratulate the winners, the medallists and their teachers. Moreover, congratulations to all the participants because even those that aren’t ranked among the best ones right now must have had a lot of experience that will be of great use in their future career. ...”

We send our love to all our readers: the editing team.

Welcome to Vrsar

In 2006 CEOI will be organised in Croatia. We've asked Mr Martin Grgeta about the details of the organisation.

Reporter: 'In which town will the next CEOI take place?'

Mr Grgeta: 'Vrsar will host CEOI 2006.'

R: 'Were there any other cities or towns that applied to be the host?'

G: 'Yes, the other cities were Krk, Split and Zadar.'

R: 'When will it take place?'

G: 'In the middle of July.'

R: 'What sort of work will you be doing?'

G: 'My job will be administration.'

R: 'What kind of institution will be the host to the competition?'

G: 'It will be held in a local elementary school. It's a new building.'

R: 'How did the institution learn about the competition?'

G: 'We were informed by the Computer Society and this year there was a national informatics Olympiad.'

R: 'Have the preparatory work begun yet?'

G: 'It's beginning about now.'

R: 'How long have you been participating in the organisation of CEOI?'

G: 'For a few months.'

R: 'What do you think of the CEOI in Sárospatak?'

G: 'It's great. Everything is very well-organised.'

R: 'What will be the same and what will you change next year?'

G: 'I think CEOI 2006 will be quite different because the place is completely different, too.'

R: 'What kind of programmes are you going to include?'

G: 'We haven't decided yet. Maybe the sightseeing will be by boat.'

R: 'What advice would you give to students who'll be participating in CEOI 2006?'

G: 'They'd better bring their swim-suits.'

R: 'Thank you, very much.'

G: 'It was my pleasure.'
